Foreword

It was once written of Abraham Lincoln, "The years go their way, but with the name of Lincoln, childhood still learns to voice a patriot's devotion, and with the name of Lincoln tears are called from old men's eyes. And there is no new thing to be said of him."

No, there is no new thing to be said of Lincoln, but it is good for us to recount his great attributes. Tributes of all kinds have been paid to this great man. His name has come to stand for the good things in life. When the name of Abraham Lincoln is mentioned one thinks of democracy, freedom, honesty, and sincerity.

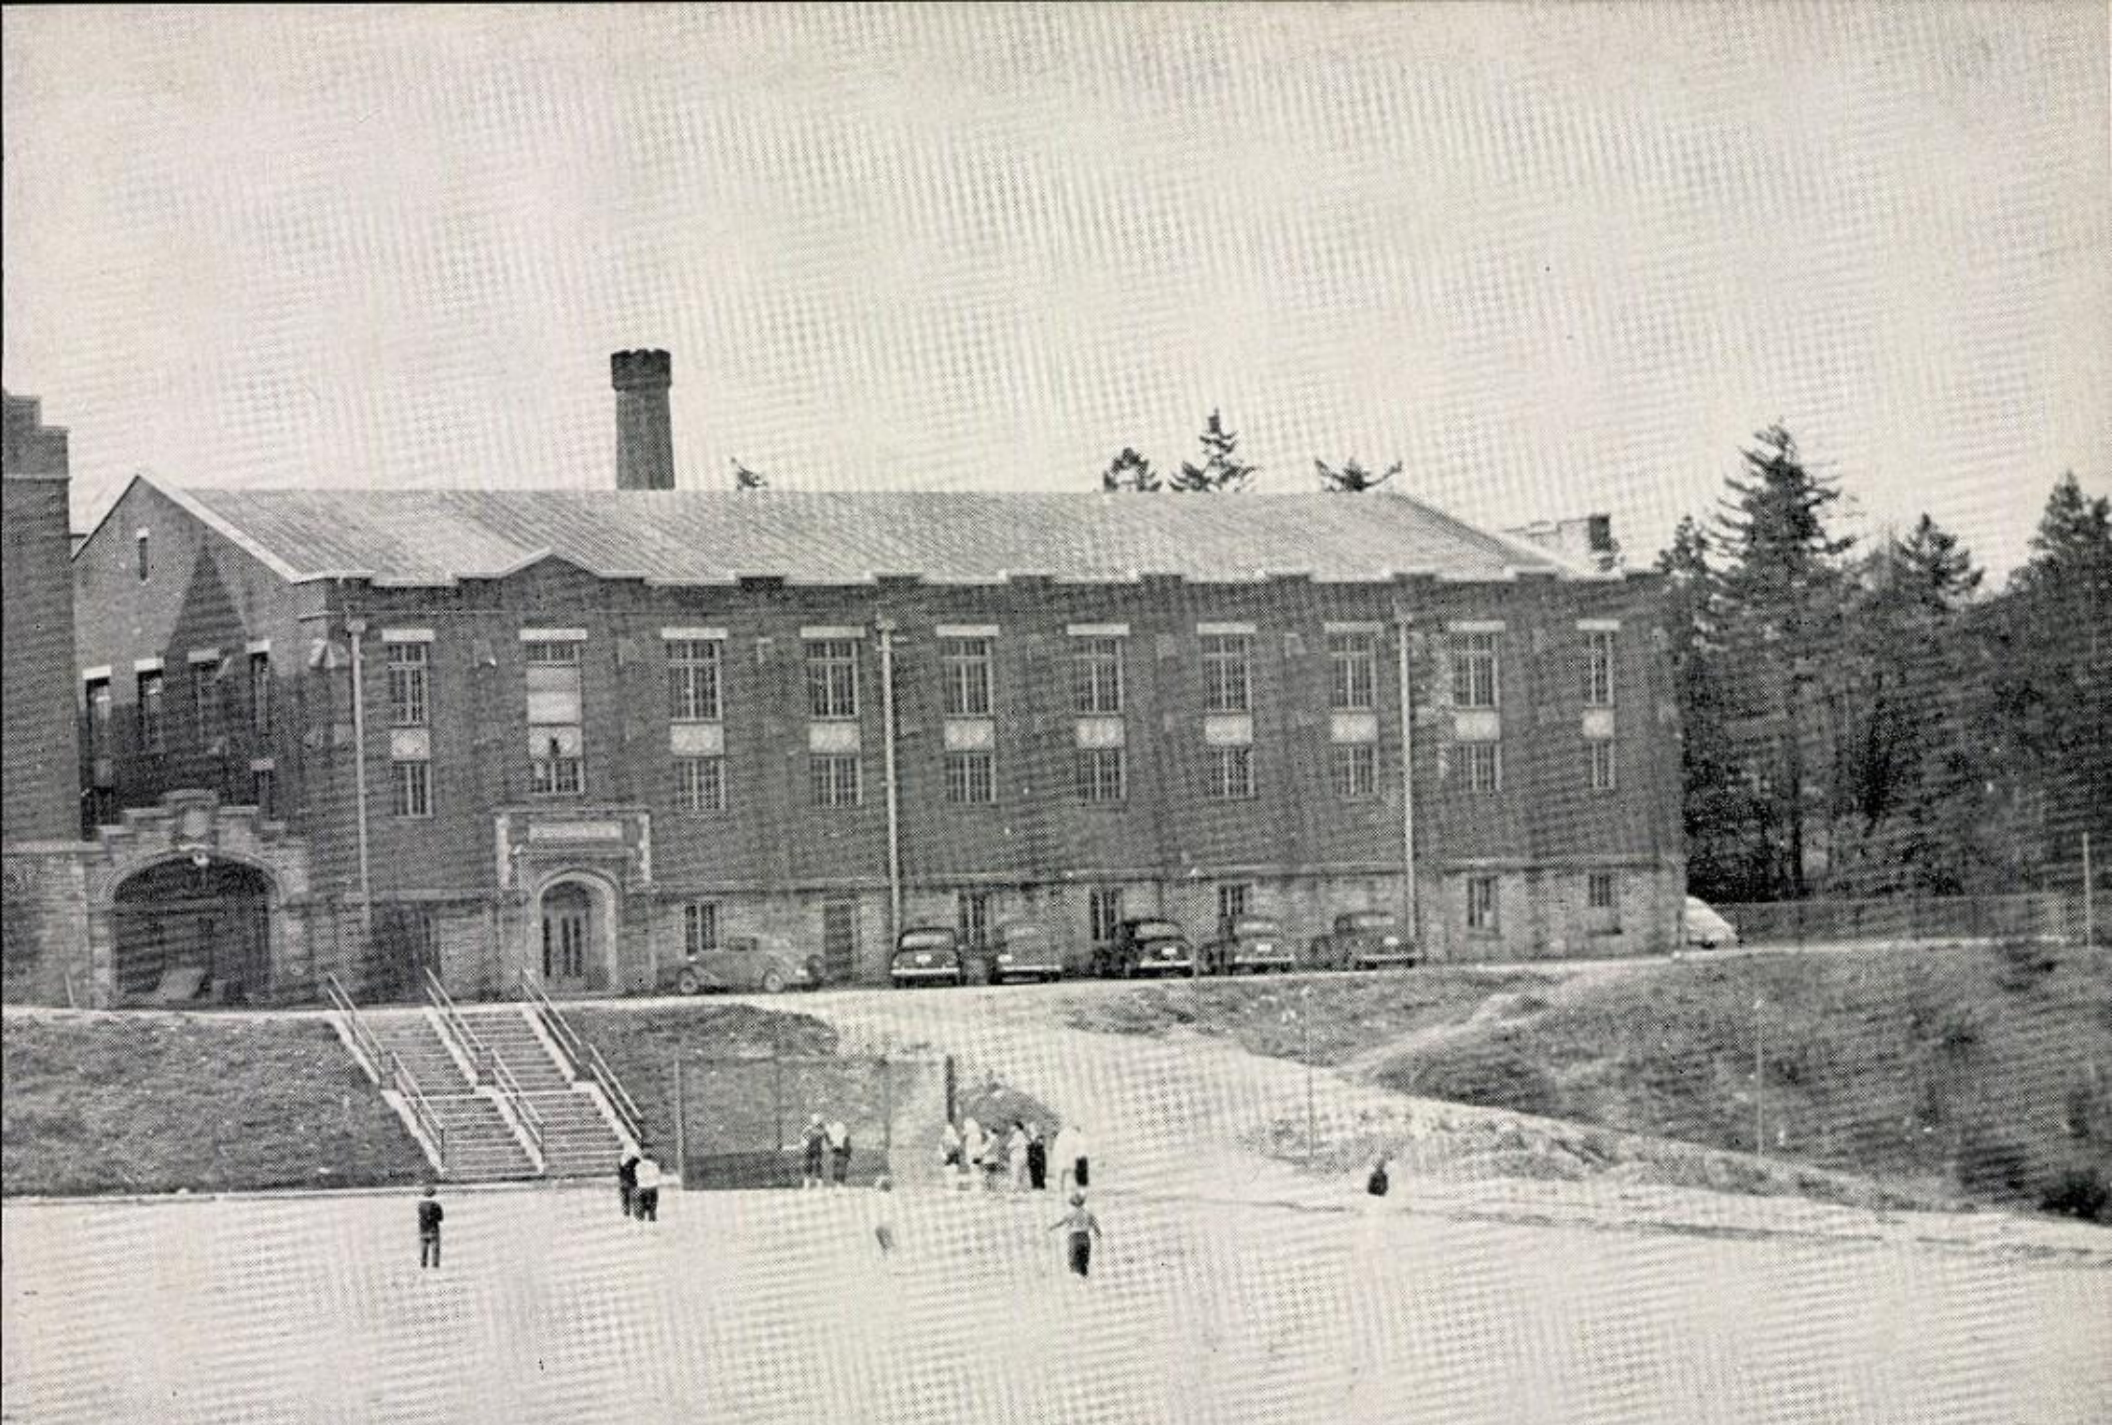
His spirit is everywhere in this school or any school that bears his name.

Abraham Lincoln was a great sportsman and his spirit of fair play may be seen on our athletic fields every season as a Lincoln High School team comes on the field. For they always play the game fair and square.

Lincoln stood for democracy, for he followed the principals of Jesus Christ more than any other person in the national government of his time. Our school functions as a democratic government with all students created equal and no racial discrimination.

His spirit is a guiding light, an ultimate goal for Lincoln High School students. Upon graduation, the senior leaves school to make his way in this world; and always, he has the inspiration of a boy reared in a log cabin, who elevated himself to the position of president of the United States.

It is for these reasons that the "Spirit of Abraham Lincoln" is the theme for the 1950 Lincolnian.



Dedication

Now, as in the time of Abraham Lincoln, people have divided into two opposing groups. There is, however, a difference. In Lincoln's time, the problem was an internal one which involved the United States alone. Now, it is world-wide.

Lincoln saw the people of the United States divided over the question of whether all men should be free. Now the peoples and nations of the world are divided into two distinct groups, disagreeing over whether all men should have the right to govern themselves in a fair, and democratic manner, or whether they should be forced to live in virtual slavery to the government under the strict rule of a dictator.

In Lincoln's time, the controversy was not settled until after four long years of bitter warfare. Now, however, scientists state that with atomic warfare, which is now an actual possibility, if another war should result from the present crisis it would mean the destruction of civilization.

Lincoln stood for fair, democratic, and just government and the equality of the rights of all peoples. It is only through the belief and practice of these principles that the present situation can be solved without resulting to war.

It is for these reasons that this book, the 1950 Lincolnian, is hereby dedicated to the beliefs and ideals of Abraham Lincoln. It is the sincere hope of the Lincolnian Staff that those ideals and beliefs will gain new significance in these troubled times, and serve as a constant guide, not only to Americans, but to all peoples of the world.

ADMINISTRATION

LINCOLN—THE SPIRIT OF FAIR AND JUST GOVERNMENT

B. O. Beal

Principal Beal Ends 25th Year at Lincoln

As this year comes to an end, Principal Burt O. Beal will have completed 25 years of service to school and community.

When Mr. Beal first entered Lincoln in 1925, he took up the duties of athletic coach and teacher. The following year he advanced to the vice-principalship where he remained until 1938 when he became principal.

His message to the Class of 1950:

"The great emancipator for whom Lincoln High School was named once said, 'I'll study and get ready and then maybe the chance will come.' The chance did come. It came because Mr. Lincoln was prepared as a result of having studied with a genuine purpose in mind. All Lincoln High students should adopt that same motto so that they, too, shall be ready to take advantage of any opportunities which are sure to come to those who use school privileges as a basic preparation for life.

"The attitude of mind and the unyielding spirit of Abraham Lincoln were fundamentally the keynote of success in his life. His life, then, should be a splendid example for all Lincoln High students to follow, keeping in mind constantly that the 'will to win', and an everlasting desire to reach a certain goal, are attributes which contribute materially toward a successful accomplishment of a life work.

"It is always enjoyable and inspirational to note the development and progress of students during high school days. The members of the class of 1950 have for the most part advanced and gained in direct proportion to the amount of effort used to earn the right to graduate from high school. Some have failed to build a firm foundation—they have not accumulated a fund of knowledge in proportion to their capabilities. Others have worked to mental capacity and as a result are better prepared for the immediate tasks ahead.

"My sincere best wishes to each graduate of the 1950 class. May each of you be successful in your chosen field and may you be happy and content in your work through the years to come."

Vice-Principal Is Trouble Shooter

"I'd like to take orchestra 5th period but that conflicts with my botany class. What should I do?" Straightening out jumbled programs such as this falls on the shoulders of Vice-principal W. B. Hardie who, since December of 1947, has served as administrative assistant to the principal.

His other duties include adjusting the school's finances, ordering and distributing supplies and assigning special or modified classes. By acting as administrative head of the guidance department, he is able to coordinate the work of that group with the office.

All the successful dances and assemblies during the year were made possible through the efforts of Mr. Hardie acting on the behalf of the faculty.

New students at Lincoln soon come to realize that Mr. Hardie is a just dispenser of discipline and possesses a keen understanding of the high school student.

Guidance Gives Aid To Puzzled Students

"How do I get a scholarship application?"

"When is the college conference being held?"

"Where can I find out about a job?"

The scene is the guidance department, and the theme follows the daily work of the five people in room 229, for this was one of their busiest years. They found jobs for almost 100 students, gave tests to help students decide upon their life careers and arrange their programs so that they would be ready for college.

One of their biggest projects was the college conference last fall, in which 33 college representatives from schools all over Washington and Oregon came to Lincoln to present a picture of college to seniors. Then in the spring came the vocational conference where students got first hand information on various vocations from 65 Tacoma industrial representatives.

Typical office scene

Attendance Clerks Keep Tabs on 2300

More than 2,300 enrollment!

Lincoln's largest student body in several years!

The two preceding statements explain why Miss Elizabeth Washburn, attendance clerk and her assistant Miss Beverly Sands keep room 231 one of the busiest places at Lincoln High.

Keeping the records on such a large student body is a job that keeps them on the run from the time the doors open in the morning till quitting time at night. Besides all this, they must listen to a multitude of excuses from students about absences and tardiness, and check to see if Lola Lass should have a part time pass, and if Larry Lynx really went to the dentist.

All this, when taken into consideration, shows how nerve-wracking and uninviting the job is. While they are probably two of the busiest people here, they are always ready with a big smile, and are two of the friendliest persons at Lincoln.

It is all this which rates a great big thanks for a job well done.

Busy Office Clerks Answer Questions

"Is there an assembly today?"

"What time does the bus leave for the tournament?"

"May I please look at the card file to find where Johnny Lynx is this period?"

Questions! Questions! Questions! but our two office clerks, Mrs. Maxine Cissne, head clerk, and Mrs. Gertrude Lindsay, assistant, are quite equal to the task of answering hundreds of them each day.

They are deluged by students and faculty alike. Nevertheless, these two are ready with a cheerful answer for anyone requesting information.

One of their most important duties, however, is to keep an account of the citizenship and scholarship of every Lincoln student. Since these records may someday serve as a key to open the door to a chosen profession or college they must be kept accurate and up to date at all times. With an average student body of over 2,000 each year, this is no small job.

However, no matter how busy they may be, anyone entering the office will always find Mrs. Cissne and Mrs. Lindsay ready and willing to give cheerful aid in any way they can.

Lynx Teachers Do Amazing Job

Eighty-six in number, they did a job that would be equal to any performed by twice as many.

That, briefly, is the achievement of the Lincoln faculty this year. When at first thought a student considers teachers as those who assign that tough geometry theorem, give that French translation assignment, or tell him to learn those chemistry formulas, these might be his most prevalent ideas of a teacher, but they are surely not the only ones.

It is also remembered that he or she was the one who stood at the gates at football and basketball games and punched activity tickets, offered to chaperone that club dance, decorated for the P-TA luncheon, and gave that friendly advice when needed most. All this was done over and above their duties as instructors, and they would be the last to look for any praise or glory. In later years, when that successful businessman, architect, or career woman, looks back on his high school days, he will attribute much of his success to the hard work of those Abe instructors.

Yes, when the student thinks it over, he realizes that he was the luckiest person in the world to have such a splendid group of teachers.

Council Reorganizes Procedure

"The hub of student affairs," aptly describes this year's Student Council whose members have sought to bring about good government and activities at Lincoln.

Reorganizing Inter-Club Council was only one of the many projects successfully accomplished. Due to the council's efforts, Inter-Club is once again able to play a major role in the functioning of student government.

As usual, one of the main issues of the year was the extent to which Lincolnites should have student government. In order to find out the methods and success of this plan in other schools, the Lincoln council was host to a County Conference in October. Representatives from Stadium, Clover Park, Bellarmine, Fife, Sumner, and Puyallup were in attendance. Through correspondence with other Washington high schools much valuable information was gathered on this subject. An exchange visit with Bremerton made possible the accumulation of many ideas which proved helpful to both councils. Three delegates were also appointed to attend a conference on student government at the University of Washington.

With the object of helping the Student Court to function more smoothly the council appointed a committee to work out new resolutions for the warrant servers of the Court. Inter-Club aided them in this project. Several delegates also visited Roosevelt High School in Seattle to observe how their student court was progressing.

To bolster their treasury they sponsored a dance, "Football Frolic," in the fall, which proved to be both a financial and social success. From the proceeds of the dance, a contribution was made to the P. A. fund. The Lincoln scholarship fund was also contributed to.

During the past year this group also recognized the newly formed German Club and approved an emblem for the projection crew.

Along with their many other projects the council found time to carry out all class and student body elections.

A council sponsored comic float made its appearance along with other Lincoln entries in the annual Daffodil Parade. Accompaying this entry were a group of Lincolnites dressed in amusing costumes.

Much of the success of this group was due to the willing assistance of Mrs. RubyJean Somerville, council adviser. Her advice often helped the members to solve the problems which confronted them.

J. Traynor, D. Chandler, D. Duncan, A. Turner, J. Dickson, E. Lester, M. Fontana, D. Kupfer.

Court Strives For Good Government

"Students should be able to govern themselves, and carry on an effective law enforcing group, composed of students and not the members of the faculty."

When the student government idea was brought up in the fall of 1947, this was given as the main argument for a student governing body. Two years of existence is now behind the student court, and this has been carried through in an attempt to get a smooth running and fair system of self-government for Lincoln.

Under the leadership of Don Chandler, judge; Jim Traynor, assistant judge; Delores Duncan, clerk-bailiff; and Arthur Turner, faculty adviser; the court came through this crucial period, which many thought would prove whether or not the court would be a lasting institution.

The court has run up against many difficulties and obstacles since its start in November of 1948, but most of these have been overcome by trial and error.

While the court itself functioned very well and did its duty, all of this time its main trouble was that of getting warrants served. The council then took up the problem of finding a way to get an effective system of serving them, and if they couldn't find a way the court would be abolished.

After many suggestions had been aimed, Inter-Club Council decided to take up the task and work on a new plan for a warrant serving organization.

Much discussion was held on this subject and a plan was adopted which was thought to be the answer to the question. The new plan, when carried out, will consist of members of the student body at large, who turn in their names and are approved by the council.

This group will have about sixty members, and will work on the patrol system. Each student will have his own beat and every beat will have several alternates so that a student will not be on duty all the time.

Only time will tell how effective this plan will work, but it is a step forward in the direction of a better and more democratic court.

P-T A Assists Many Student Activities

"Pulling Together Always."

An appropriate motto for the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association which strives at all times to promote better relations between the school and the home.

Under the leadership of Mrs. W. F. Gorrell, this organization continued its sponsorship of the ski classes for Lincoln students at the Milwaukee Ski Bowl.

Other activities of the year included a food sale and style show with all profits being contributed to the Lincoln scholarship fund, the P-TA scholarship fund, and the new organ fund. A card party and two successful rummage sales were held also, with the money being used to send relief packages to overseas schools.

"Founders Day" was observed when six past Lincoln P-TA presidents were welcomed back by the present members. The former presidents related some of their experiences, especially their money raising efforts, while they were in office. Gifts were presented to them in appreciation of their work by members of the organization.

Panel discussions and guest speakers at its regular monthly meetings helped promote better understanding of the problems of the high school and the high school student. The art room was also visited in order that the P-TA members, by watching the students at work, might learn how the art department of the school functions.

Last year Mrs. Gorrell attended the annual P-TA convention in Yakima. One of the main objectives at this convention was to work out better legislation for the benefit of children. To aid them in this project the delegates attended classes where guest speakers explained some of the problems of the school. This year the convention is scheduled to be held in Tacoma, and as is the custom, the incoming president will be the official delegate.

Other officers assisting Mrs. Gorrell in this year's work of the organization were Mrs. E. L. Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Wilson, second vice-president; Mrs. Donald Ahrens, secretary, and Mrs. John Edie, treasurer.

High School Days Over For 600

Graduation that marks half a century, the Senior Brunch, Baccalaureate, and some 600 Lincoln seniors delve into a new 50-year period as the hope of a war-sick world for leadership.

But on the crest of this evolution from student to adult, they pause to inscribe on their memories the outstanding of the best three years of their lives. There was that first bewildering day at Lincoln, the times they sat high in the balcony during assemblies in their sophomore days, the Thanksgiving Day games, the after-school sales, and the strolls down the Abe halls.

Finally, came that day in September in 1949 when they returned to school with the realization that this was their last year and with the determination to make it the best yet.

They soon got into the swing of things by electing Jack McClary, class president; Royetta Kirklin, vice-president; Ruth Brown, secretary, first semester; Barbara Walker, secretary, second semester; Earl Lester, treasurer; and Marilyn Selander, representative to council.

Abstract design and modernistic coloring describe the Junior-Senior Prom, "Futurama," which was labeled as a great success in both attendance and enjoyment.

With waning days of their final term in view, the class held the Senior Class assembly June 2, the class picnic in the first week in June, and the Baccalaureate services at the First Baptist Church on June 4. Then came the never-to-be-forgotten commencement on June 7, carrying out the "Half Century Review" theme.

There as the last strains of music were issued forth by the orchestra and a cappella choir and the final words of the speaker died out, they suddenly realized that they were no longer students, but residents of an adult world.

Juniors Map Future, Plan Studies

Young, energetic and carefree, fresh from junior high graduation came the class of '51 to Lincoln ready to take on the responsibilities and duties as the next Sophomore Class.

They looked around with bewilderment and then a bit dazzled, proceeded to elect their class officers and choose class colors of maroon and white and order 1951 numerals and jewelry.

Once their sophomore year was behind them they now prepared to settle down and carry through the ideas and hopes they had formed as sophomores.

Realizing that their Junior year was not to be all play, the members of the class began to map out the future and plan major studies.

Now upperclassmen, the Juniors got down to business right away by electing their class officers. Guiding their "Ship of State," President Dan Mackey was aided by Harold Roberts, vice-president; Marilyn Madson, treasurer; Joanne Wilson, secretary; and Neil Rader, representative to council. Marilyn took over the job of getting the class jewelry ordered.

The letter voted for use was an "L" with a Lynx head on it. The class as a whole, however, did not choose to wear the letter on their sweaters. Only about six actually have the letter.

The group worked hard in cooperation with the seniors to make "Futurama," the Senior-Junior Prom, a huge success, showing that they were fully capable when the time came to filling the shoes of their upperclassmen as a very active class. The gym was a vision of the future when they finished decorating.

Assembly Highlights Sophs' Year

"I will study and prepare and someday my chance will come."

With this thought in mind some 600 new students, the class of '52 entered into the democratic form of life at Lincoln September 7, 1949. They became a part of the bustling in the halls, the noise in the cafeteria, and jamming of the office with questions to be answered. They, at last, were Lincoln students.

This group immediately set about to function as a democratic government with the election of officers to guide them through their first year at Lincoln. This was accomplished with the choosing of Marvin Webster, president; Sallie Ward, vice-president; Margie Webster, secretary; Juanita Vargo, treasurer; and LaMoyne Barcott, representative to council.

With the election of officers, the class was ready to embark on the many activities they had planned. Armed with buckets of warm water, brushes, mops, and determination to do a good job, the sophs started their annual task, the scrubbing of Lincoln's statue.

The cleaning chore done, the group began work on selecting the colors for the sophomore class. The colors chosen were maroon and gray. Next, on the calendar was the presentation of the sophomore assembly, and when the curtain rang down on this performance, the class of "52" was credited with one of the best assemblies presented at Lincoln.

Not content with these accomplishments, the sophs originated having the roll room representatives take part in all student government by serving on committees, the idea of this being that the representatives would acquaint the roll room with what is going on.

As a climax to the year's activities the sophs presented the annual sophomore dance on April 14.

Athletic Director's Day is Whirl of Work

Work, Work and more Work.

Mr. E. R. Schwarz, Athletic Director of Lincoln, certainly knows the meaning of that word, work. Issuing equipment, collecting insurance, handing out letters, arranging schedules, besides looking after a myriad of lesser details, is the job of Mr. Schwarz.

Whenever anyone has any trouble, with his schedule or maybe an injury, Mr. Schwarz is usually called upon. Along with all his duties as Athletic Director, he also teaches four classes of history.

Athletes Get Start in Gym Classes

Where do we get those athletes? From the sandlots? By accident? Very few, but quite a number from the intramural program, where the aspirants receive their initial practice, and from the five periods of gymnastics which are given daily by the three boys' physical educational instructors, Ellis Johnson, head of the department, Bill Mullen, Dan Lazare, instructors, and John Pyfer, intramural program director. To them goes the job of building strong and healthy bodies for the young men of the future.

The intramural program was again a great success under the direction of John Pyfer. This program offers an outlet for the talent of boys skilled in the various sports, but not of sufficient caliber to make the first teams. Basketball, boxing, wrestling, tumbling and swimming were given as part of the fall intramural program, with table tennis, badminton, life-saving and decathlon in the spring semester. An extremely successful 1948 intramural boxing and wrestling show made the event an annual affair and this year's program even surpassed the original show. This year's exhibition was held on November 3 with twelve mixed boxing and wrestling bouts on the card.

Intramural Program Draws 400 Aspirants; Coaches Develop Champs For Lincoln

"Playing the game for the game's sake," is how John Pyfer evaluates intramural sports at Lincoln. Mr. Pyfer is the director of this program to which from 300 to 400 boys were drawn for the fall semester.

During the Thanksgiving day grid game, six cross-country runners competed with Stadium, and the Abes swept the first three places and the race. The basketball crown was taken by Dale Bloom's team. The outstanding intra event of the year was the annual boxing-wrestling show which was attended by 500 fans.

In the spring semester, competition in decathlon, life-saving, and badminton were offered.

Work, worry and trimphal joy was the lot for nine members of the Lincoln faculty who all responded to the familiar salutation, "Hi, Coach." Turning eager youths into skilled, poised athletes proved to be a full-time job.

Bill Mullen's sophomore eleven, Norm Mayer's first-string gridsters and hoopmen and Ellis Johnson's riflers captured firsts. Striving for Spring honors are the 1949 city champion tracksters under John Sharp, the golfers of Frank Erspamer, the tennis players of Arthur Smith and the 1949 champion baseballers of Bill Mullen. The swimmers of Dan Lazare showed improvement as did the wrestlers of Arnold Myhre and the sophomore hoopsters of John Sharp and John Pyfer.

Campbell Awarded Inspirational Trophy

Determination, fight and leadership on the field brought to Tom Campbell the annual football inspirational award by vote of his fellow teammates. Tom also was co-captain along with Joe Doyle, being named by Coach Norm Mayer at the beginning of the season.

Although Tom only weighs 135 pounds, he showed that he could block and tackle just as hard as a larger player. Tom had a tremendous amount of drive, which made him one of the best ground gainers in the state.

Tom also called the plays for the Lynx on offense, and was one of the top defensive players. Joe Doyle was picked co-captain along with Tom Campbell for his excellent leadership on the field. Joe had the hard luck of having a leg injury that kept him out of most of the games.

Gridmen 1st in City,

Plunging through enemy defenses, Lincoln's "Pony Backs" behind their "seven-mule" line galloped to the 1949 City League football title and second place in the Cross-State League.

Leading to the seven victories out of eight games was pigskin packer extraordinary Tom "Smoky" Campbell who ate up a total of 700 yards in his many gainers. Master-minding the attack was Frank Karwoski who also punted the enemy team back on its heels time after time. The seven "mules" started the season with little experince, but through constant practice and with the help of line backers Campbell and Billings they developed into a potent defense which throttled the opposition in five games.

After thrashing Stadium 14 to 0 in the King's-X tilt, the Abes worked on the forward wall and back defenses in preparation for Bremerton. When the Wildcats came to town the Railmen became involved in a comedy of errors both mental and physical as they fumbled to a 31 to 6 drubbing. In the final quarter a long pass to end Bill Larsen opened up the Wildcats and the Lynx scored their only counters of the evening.

The Presidents trekked to Sedro Wooley and Seattle Prep and found the Northern air invigorating as they pushed back the Cubs 25 to 0 and Seattle Prep 21 to 0. Long touchdown runs by Bobby Miller, "Smoky" Campbell and Bob Roller highlighted the contests.

In the fifth encounter of the year the Everett eleven traveled to Lincoln and for half the game played superior ball. After the second-half kick, however, Logan grabbed a blocked punt and went over, Wold and Karwoski each climaxed a long drive to pay dirt, and Roller and Miller each grabbed scoring passes from Karwoski to give Lincoln a victory, 31 to 12.

In Bellingham, the Railmen gridsters were repulsed again and again in the shadow of the goal post. They were not to be denied, however, and registered a safety. This 2 to 0 win marked the first time in six starts that the Abes had stopped the Raiders on their home field.

Opening City League play against Bellarmine, the Railsplitters sloshed over the mud to a 9 to 6 victory. A 15 yard tackle plunge by Campbell in the first canto and the successful try for point put Lincoln ahead 7 to 0. Manley, of the Bells, went over in the same half, making the score Lincoln 7, Bellarmine 6. In the fourth period the Abes drove through for a safety.

In the annual Turkey Day classic Lincoln powered to a muddy 14 to 0 win thus earning the city laurels for the second consecutive year. Karwoski circled end for the first one and passed to Miller for the second tally.

Lynx Pigskin Reserves Strengthen 1st Team; Coach Mullen's Sophs Capture City Crown

They are the unsung heroes of the gridiron, those reserves—the lads who were the punching bags for the first team and to whom a goodly portion of the credit must go for the success of the regulars.

The reserves had a record of one win and two losses. Under the guiding hands of Dan Lazare, they lost their first encounter with the Stadium seconds by a score of 12-6, but came back to capture the second contest with a 6-0 win. In their final clash with the Bengal eleven, the Abes were downed by a 13-12 score.

City champions, with five wins and one loss, was the record compiled by Coach Bill Mullen's sophomore football team. Their only loss was an 18-0 game with the Clover Park reserves. A record like this one gives an indication that Lincoln will be well supplied with gridmen for the next two years.

In their other games, the Lynx downed Stadium, 18-7 and 25-0; Bellarmine, 20-12 and 27-13, and the Sumner reserves, 26-12. Outstanding for the sophs were Jerry Decker, Jerry Kennedy, Merle Hagbo and Bill Hassler.

Abe Grapplers Show Determination, Fight

Determination, courage, fight—all the necessary qualities of any good athletic team were displayed in this year's wrestling squad; but as the adage goes, "a good big man is better than a good small one," and the matmen were overpowered by unusually strong competition to lose their chance this year of regaining the perpetual Cammarano trophy from their cross-town rivals.

The Abes lost their four local matches this year, but all victories were by extremely small margins. In two matches with Stadium for the Cammarano trophy, the grapplers lost the first 29-19, and the second 35-18. The two matches with Fife were both won by small margins, the scores being 27-26, and 28-25. Against Sedro Wooley and Mt. Vernon, the Lynx were more successful, winning both matches. The scores were 25-22, and 26-16.

In a match pitting the best of Pierce County against Skagit County's standouts, the Rail-splitters had Henry Hashimoto, Bob Strode, and Bill Hergert as representatives along with boys from Stadium and Fife. Henry won his match and received a medal for his winning effort in the 103-pound division.

In the spring card Duane Sutherland decisioned Ronald Lorent in half of a double main event with Bill Hale decisioning Gene Patton in the other fight. Dave Rooney and George Watson were named co-captains of the boxing team for their ability to lead the other boxers in sportsmanship and all-around fair play. City champions four years in a row! This is the new record now held by the Lincoln High School Rifle team. The Lynx won the title this year by taking three out of their four matches. The previous record for consecutive city titles was three, made by Stadium.

The marksmen, coached by Ellis Johnson, also placed first in the district meet and fourth in the National Rifle Association meet, which included schools from all over the country.

With Ted Osborne, Don Rogers and Dick McCulloch consistently leading the way, the Abes have won five of their eight matches to date and haven't received word from another, in which they have a good chance to place fairly high.

Many of the individuals on the squad have received medals for their ability. Ted Osborne, the first man on the team, placed in national competition.

Koessler, Larsen Win Basketball Awards!

Fight, determination and drive won the Inspirational Award for Donn Koessler, the Abes' fast little forward. Bill Larsen was elected honorary captain of the Lynx five.

Donn, who is only five foot nine, was one of the leading factors in the Abes' fast break. Donn could run with anyone, and he would usually outrun his man. He was third in scoring for the season for the Railmen.

His ability to get rebounds was remarkable considering his height. He very seldom made any mistakes on the floor, being one of the most consistent players on the team. Donn is a senior, and this was his second first-team letter.

Bill Larsen, a hard fighting six-foot, two-inch Abe forward, was elected captain by his teammates. Bill was the acting captain for the Railsplitters throughout the season.

Bill, who earned his second first-team letter, was the Abes' leading scorer for the season with 203 points. Bill is a senior and has played his last year for the Lynx.

Score, Lincoln 30, North Central of Spokane 32, Bill Larsen shoots, the ball hits the rim, bounds high but misses when it came down and the gun sounds to end the game. Thus all hopes of a state high school basketball championship fade at the State Class A Tourney at the University of Washington Edmundson Pavilion in Seattle.

After they lost this thriller, they dropped their next contest to Bellingham by a 53-42 count, and were eliminated from the tournament. The Abes qualified for the state high school classic by taking the Tacoma City League crown with a record of six wins and two losses.

The Abes, under the leadership of Coach Norm Mayer, compiled a regular season's record of 15 wins and four losses. The Lynx also took both of their games in the Hoop-Go-Round, but Bellarmine won the championship because it was figured on how many points more a team had than the teams it played.

In the City League, the Abes only lost two of their eight games. Stadium downed the Railmen 36-34 in a thriller, in which the Tigers came from behind and won in the last minute.

The other loss in city play was to Bellarmine, and only by one point, the score being 36-35. Lincoln won their three other contests with the Lions by at least 10 points.

Compiling a six-and-three won-lost record the Railmen garnered second place in the Cross-State League. The game with Bellingham wasn't played because of a snow storm. Bremerton won the championship, and Lincoln split their two games with the Wildcats.

Bill Larsen led the Lynx in scoring this year with 209 points for the season, counting the State Tournament. Bill was the best rebound getter. Donn Koessler, the other forward, was very fast and was one of the main factors in the Abes' fast break. Garnet Lund, the Railmen's center, had a fine pivot shot and could shoot with either hand.

Ron Billings was one of the best defensive players in the City or Cross-State League. Russ Wilkerson, the other starting guard, was a fine all around player, and the only junior on the team.

Reserve Casabamen Bolster 1st-Stringers

"Not glorified much, but very valuable in the pinches," describes aptly the reserve basketball players.

They have provided the opposition in practice for the first team, and also filled in when some of the first five fouled out and saved the game. Joe Mallet, who played all season for the reserves, saw enough action in the first team games to win a letter.

Coach Norm Mayer's five improved much during the season and won a good part of their games near the end of the season. They finished the season with a record of eight wins and eight losses.

Dale Bloom, a senior, was the other outstanding player along with Joe Mallet. Jim Faul a sophomore and Jerry Hansler also played good ball for the Abes.

Blacks 3rd, Golds 5th In City Hoop Race

They won only third and fifth places respectively in the City Sophomore Hoop race, but for scrap and pep the Blacks and the Golds of Lincoln proved themselves equal to the other quintets, whipping each opponent at least once.

The Blacks, led by Ron Storaasli and Ron Schiez, headed the standings for most of the season but lagged at the end. A defeat by Lincoln's Golds near the finish placed the Blacks in a tie for third spot with Stadium's Blues.

The Golds, led by Jerry Decker, fell to defeat time after time in the early season but ended in a cloud of glory as they downed three loop leaders in succession. A scoring dearth in midseason was cured and the Golds seemed unbeatable at the finish.

Nine Defends City, X-State Titles

Coach Bill Mullen's baseball team was out to defend its Cross-State League title which the Abe nine has possessed for the last two years as this Lincolnian went to press.

This year's team was hit very hard by the graduation of almost all of the lettermen of last year's team. Such stars as Glen Huffman, Dick Palamidessi, Ron Billings, Frank Karwoski, Ransome Rolfe, Dale Bloom and Ron Peterson were all lost by graduation. Dick Larson and Dick Lack are the only returning lettermen from the 1949 squad.

In practice games this year, the Railsplitters won their first game with Clover Park by a 1-0 count. The second game with the Parkers was a wild affair, the Railmen outlasting the Clover Park nine, 13-9. The Axemen played one contest with the Puyallup Vikings, and came out on top by a one run margin, the score being 2-1.

Lincoln also met the Pacific Lutheran College nine in two contests. Glen Huffman, star of last year's Abe squad, played in both games. The Lutes won the first tilt by a 6-5 score. The second ended in a 3-3 tie. The Abes lost their first City League game to Stadium by a 3-0 count. Bob Nyssen pitched a one-hitter against the Axemen. Larry LaBounty, the Railsplitter's pitcher, held the Tigers to four hits. LaBounty picked up the only hit for the Railmen in the sixth inning, a single to right center.

In the Abes' only other city game up to the publication deadline of this annual, the Railmen beat Bellarmine in a high scoring contest, 10-0. Dick Lack and Duane Hafterson held the Lions to four hits, each of them giving up two blows.

The starting lineup is still a little uncertain as the Lincolnian goes to press. The catching chores will be taken care of by either Lynn Caulkins or Al Featherstone. Dick Lack, Ray Boen, and Larry LaBounty will probably do most of the pitching for the Railmen nine. The first base job will be in the hands of Dick Schiez.

Dick Larson, one of the two returning lettermen, is back at his second base spot. Joe Stortini is the leading candidate for the shortstop position, and Gordon Grubert or Russ Wilkerson will be at the third base slot. Donn Koessler will be the starting center fielder for the Lynx, with Dick Lack, Bob Longe and Ron Storaasli fighting it out for the other outfield positions.

Prospects for next year's season are very good with a good part of the 1950 squad being made up of juniors and sophomores. With such players as Russ Wilkerson, Mel Little, Ron Storaasli, Joe Stortini, Duane Hafterson, Dale Steichen, Don Steichen and Johnny Tomasi, Coach Bill Mullen will have a lot to build with for next year.

The Axemen have games scheduled with Everett, Bellingham, Bremerton, Seattle Prep and Stadium in the Cross-State League, and Stadium and Bellarmine in the City League.

Swimmers Win 5th At State Meet

In a spray of blue drops the game mermen of Lincoln fought to fifth place in a field of nine entries at the state meet March 18, 1950. This meet was the climax of the Lincoln swimming year, as the Abes, in scoring 14 points, downed Everett and Highline who had taken the Abes in dual meets.

The 200 yard free-style relay was the chief Lynx event and the Railsplitters came within three-tenths of a second of the state record in the semi-finals. In the finals, however, Stadium nosed out the Abes.

Leaders in the Lincoln scoring attack were Glen Bechtoldt, Orvel Larsen, Frank Graham and Ted Milleson. Also helping pile up points with seconds and thirds were Bill Stalder, Eddy Westwood and Bob Jowett. Of these seven, Larsen and Westwood will be back next year.

First foe of the year was the state champion-to-be, Stadium. The Bengals tore the water apart in this initial encounter, scoring 60 points to 15 for Lincoln. Bechtoldt, Milleson, and Burt Wold won events.

The two teams Lincoln enjoyed beating in the state meet, Everett and Highline, nearly provided Lincoln wins during the season. The finals of the two meets were identical 38-37 counts. Graham, Larsen and Bechtoldt stroked out firsts in their specialties in both meets and nearly won for the Abes.

Big leads were taken by Longview and Aberdeen in the two meets Lincoln raced with them. Longview tallied extra seconds and thirds in taking the Railmen 41-34 while Aberdeen, the champs of last year, used their experience and depth in downing Lincoln 47-28. As in most dual meets, the Lynx scored twice in the 200 yard free-style event.

The final Stadium meet showed an improved Lincoln squad that fought every yard of the way. The final was 42-33 as contrasted with the earlier 60-15 whipping. Important factors in the improved count were the wins of Graham and Milleson. Copping the relays were Stalder, Larsen and Brown in the 150 yard medley and Graham, Larsen, Milleson, and Bechtoldt in the 200 yard free-style that followed.

Reserve Finmen Look To Future

"Our reserve swimming team was composed of six sophomores and a junior," explains Coach Dan Lazare. "This fact explains the lack of strength this year and points with promise to the years ahead."

Five meets with Stadium provided the testing ground for these Abe secondaries. Although the team lost all its meets, many points were secured for Lincoln by never-say-die spirit. In the 50-yard free style and in the relays Bob McCallum, Wally Rath and Bill Rush stroked out the points.

The longer distances attracted Earl Haltom, a 200-yard free styler, and Larry Kerth and Dick Zielinski, 100-yard backstrokers. Combining the events of the other swimmers, Jack Dorfner scored in the individual medley.

2 Golf Vets Form Nucleus For '50 Squad; Returning Lettermen Hope of Netters

Lincoln's divotmen entered the 1950 golf season with two returning lettermen, and having only a very slight chance to win the city title. Paul Anderson and Ed Harrison are the only returning lettermen for Coach Frank Erspamer's team.

The Lynx lost their first match of the season when they combined with Stadium in a best-ball match against the College of Puget Sound, by a 10½-7½ score. In their next meet, the Railmen took fourth place in the Cross-State League affair at Everett.

In their only City League match up to time of the yearbook publication deadline the Axemen were downed by Stadium 14-1. Bellarmine was added to the Lynx's schedule this year, it being the first time the Lions have had a golf team.

The team has home-and-home matches scheduled with Everett, Bellingham, Bremerton, Olympia and Aberdeen along with their City League meets. Paul Anderson is the only senior on this year's team.

Ol' Jupiter Pluvius poured out record amounts of rain at the time the tennis team was scheduled for turnouts and meets, and consequently, the Abe netters have been unable to display their prowess. Two lettermen returned this year to form the foundation of the team. They were veterans Don Flye and Ted Osborne, who, along with Gene Currah, Dick Elzner, and Ed Johnson, all newcomers, comprise the Lynx squad.

In their initial test this year, the racquet-swingers bowed to Stadium 5-1, but may prove to be strong competition for their opponents as the season progresses and opportunity for much needed practice is presented.

The Presidents are expected to do better than "all-right" in the Cross-State playoffs to be held on May 26. Lincoln is the host school this year, with all matches being played at the Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club's courts. The Railmen will undoubtedly have a firm grip on places in both city and state league play.

Thinclads Train to Defend Title

There is a sharp report, a tremendous effort by skilled, tireless runners, a thrilling finish and another event of the 1950 Lincoln track schedule is history. As their ancestors of 2,000 years ago might have done, these young men under the direction of Coach John Sharp trained for months with spiked shoes, metal balls, heavy discs or poles in an attempt to retain their city crown.

After this strenuous training, the Abes met Seattle Prep, Auburn, Aberdeen and Hoquiam before the Lincolnian went to press. The first meet with the Panthers ended in an overpowering 87-26 victory for Lincoln's thinclads. Lincoln played a close practice match with Auburn and met Hoquiam two days later. The Lynx runners and hurdlers scored point after point but lost the meet 65-47 after a superlative effort by the Hoquiam field men. The next week Lincoln took Aberdeen 66-46, as Miller ran a 10.3 100-yard dash.

The distance men proved to be the main Lincoln attack as a fine crop of lettermen and reserves developed ahead of the season. Consistent seconds and thirds as well as firsts were claimed in the mile and half mile by seniors Gault, Nutley, and DeRocher, and underclassmen Gotchy, Max and Neil Rader. Fremont journeyed to the state meet last year and has become one of the top milers in Washington. He and Neil Rader fought out a terrific 4:35.5 mile in the Seattle Prep meet for the outstanding time of the day. Rader later ran the mile at Aberdeen in 4:35.2.

Seniors participating on the Track Team for their last season: Fremont Gault, Garnet Lund, Gerry Busko, Jack Lennox, "Skip" DeRocher, Gene Patton.

Bobby Miller, Lincoln's senior dash expert, found his stride early and promises to be the speed merchant of the squad. He is supported by a junior, Ted Smith, who may take over first position next year. Crossing the finish line first is common to Bob.

First men in the hurdles events are senior Jerry Bucsko in the lows and junior Warren Logan in the highs. Sophomore Ron Beardsley may develop into a potent threat in either event.

The 440-yard dash finds senior Gene Patton and Ted Smith, sprinter, doing the honors. They have won twice in three tries and should prove good point-getters. These two runners are also found in the 880-yard relay. This event, plus the first places in the mile and the half mile, have not been lost as this goes to press.

Competition will improve the underclassman field contestants. All the weight men are juniors or sophomores and seasoning will take them from the mediocre to the excellent. Joe Mallett, a junior shot-putter and discus-thrower, does his best in the latter and adds depth in the shot event. Sophomores Rex Raymond and Mose Billingsley are the other coming entries who will add many points in the next two years.

Outstanding seniors in the other field events are Jack Lennox in the pole vault and Garnet Lund in the high jump. Jack went to the state meet at Washington State College last year and always garners points in meets. Garnet, a first team basketball player, tops the Abe high leapers. Junior Melvin Kauzlarich takes firsts and seconds in the broad jump as he did last year in winning his letter.

An important feature of this year's training is the change of dressing quarters. The new fieldhouse now houses the trackmen, after a shift called by athletic director Ed Schwarz in April.

Towels, Equipment, Keep Managers Busy; Health, Skill Motto Of Student Leaders

"What do managers do?"

"Why they pass out hundreds of towels to sophomore reserve and first-string athletes, check in and issue a wide variety of equipment and apply first-aid to injured players," explains Ed Schwarz, athletic director.

Requirements for becoming a manager include at least average grades, activity in sports, trustworthiness and, above all, outstanding honesty. After being chosen by Mr. Schwarz and the coach of the sport involved, he starts his duties and in spite of late hours he must always be doing his job.

"Several of the 18 managers did superior work," noted Mr. Schwarz. "I hope the student body appreciates the efforts of such members as Dave Hammerstrom, Cecil Shindle, Don Sabol, Steve Nolan and Jack Mace."

"Student leaders are the guides," explained Dan Lazare, boys' H.P.E. teacher, "to improved strength, skill and health for all of our physical education students."

As each leader is an expert in his sport, the sophomores receive much more individual help than if all the instruction were done by teachers. Also the leaders develop traits of guidance and organization which will be very helpful in later life. Prerequisites for the job include at least average grades, ability in the sport to be directed and social qualities enabling the student to become a good leader.

In the first semester the leaders taught swimming, a necessity for every boy, boxing, wrestling, tumbling, and basketball. In the spring semester swimming was again taught as was volleyball, badminton and soft ball.

Girls' P.E. Leaders Prove Versatile

Ker-Splash! Tramp! Tramp! Tramp!

These sounds or similar ones may be heard any school day in either the girls' gym or pool, as the girls' physical education leaders direct the sophomores.

Under the combined guidance of Mrs. Vivian Sterling and Mrs. Jessie Hutton, physical education teachers, these girls assist in leading games, exercises, and drills.

To qualify for one of these important jobs, a girl must possess a knowledge of sports, be patient, be able to get along well with others, and have a pleasing personality. Also she must maintain a high grade average.

For giving up one of their study halls and working in the gym each day these girls receive no credit. Their only material rewards are seeing the sophomores constantly improve in their gym work, and to know they are partly responsible.

Each day these girls take over their duties of giving out towels and checking attendance. They also direct games and sports when the teachers are busy with something else.

Much valuable experience is gained by these girls both in learning the sports rules and in gaining a better knowledge of how to officiate. They also learn how to treat others of the same age group.

As the only girls' health teacher Miss Helen Clarke has other duties which draw her from the sports field. But she manages to find time to judge at the posture parade and the girls' inter-class swimming meet.

Girls' Sports Heads Plan Schedule

"Strike three, you're out!"

"Oh, I got it!" "Don't hold the ball too long, pass it over here!"

Any day after school such exclamations as these could be heard resounding from the girls' gym or upper bowl, as the Lincoln Letter Lassies took charge of the after school sports program. By appointing special sports heads and working with the Physical Education Department this group had a well organized schedule and there was no chance of a conflict between sports.

To be appointed by the members of L.L.L. as a sports head in the fall a girl must have pep, enthusiasm for sports, and be capable of leadership. Much depends on her ability to referee and coach. The many phases of this work kept each girl busy. Planning schedules and keeping records for major and individual sports were only a part of their time taking job. Other things which comprise a sports heads' duties were posting notices to inform the girls when their games were to be played and coaching the girls in sports techniques. They also refereed games being played.

By turning out for two after school team sports and two individual sports, a girl may earn a letter and be eligible to join L.L.L. During the first two years letters are awarded and if she participates the third year she receives a pin.

Under the capable leadership of Betty Ammann, general sports head, the work has progressed smoothly and efficiently this year.

Sophomore Lassies Victors In Basketball; Juniors Are Victors In Volley Loop Play

With a swish the ball falls through the hoop and cheers resound from the participants and spectators alike. The scene is the girls' gym as the all-important championship basketball game takes place.

Game had followed game, and now the crucial moment had arrived. It was sophomore Team 2 captained by Barbara Hanson pitted against the juniors Team 13 led by Helen Fry. Tension grew as the minutes passed swiftly with each team gaining points. At last the final whistle blew and it was all over but the yelling. Effective guarding, speedy teamwork and perfectly-timed shots had led to the eventual 34-14 victory of the sophomore team, and the Lincoln High basketball crown was now in their hands.

Excitement holds center stage as each year a double elimination contest is played to see which group will carry away the laurels. This year, 17 teams were formed by the 121 girls participating.

Back and forth over the net it goes, a ball not much smaller than a basketball, but a lot lighter.

Yes, it's the volleyball season, and the place is the girls' gym. There were more than 100 girls turning out to form eight teams for this major sport which will give them a point toward that all important sports letter.

Now, all but a junior and a sophomore team has been eliminated from the contest. Tension is extremely high, as many hands exchange the ball and it again goes across the net. Points are scored then lost, first there is almost absolute silence as the score is tied and each girl concentrates on winning. Then all bedlam breaks lose as the junior team emerges victorious and the score stands 26-20.

Captained by Donna Alness, the juniors were led to many wins and finally to the eventual title of "champs." With Connie Lott as sports head, the players' only worry was whether they would win.

Swimmers Work Hard to Prepare for Meet; Schuler's Team Wins Girls' Baseball Crown

A terrific splash resounds from the girls' pool. They're off!

Girls from each class participate in the inter-class swimming meet which is held during April or the first of May each year. But as this year's Lincolnian goes to press, the preparations for it have not yet been made. This is always an event which is looked forward to with both hope and expectation, each girl praying with all her might that her particular class team will win.

Any girl is eligible to try out for a position on one of the teams, but only the fastest are chosen. Class elimination nights are held to determine the best swimmers in each class.

Last year the seniors won with 73 points, next were the juniors who made 58 points and finally the sophomores who tallied 43 points.

The annual meet is sponsored by the very capable members of Tuna Club, under the direction of Mrs. Vivian Sterling.

Ability and know how might well have been the keywords of Carol Schuler's champion baseball team last year.

Setting a fine example for all lowerclassmen the senior team smashed their way into the winner's bracket. After a hard-fought game Carol's team, nicknamed the "Wolves" managed to barely edge the "Tigers" out of the running.

As both teams were comprised of senior girls, each had adequate experience, but "Lady Luck" seemed to have smiled down on the "Wolves." It was nip and tuck all the way with each team scoring, but finally Carol's team went ahead to stay with the score 13-12.

Last year during the double elimination contest 120 girls participated to form the 10 teams. Even though the sophomores and juniors each had more teams than the seniors, nothing could hold these upperclassmen back. They were determined to win and win they did.

With the help of Mrs. Jessie Hutton and the sports heads everything was carefully and efficiently taken care of.

The entry blanks should be filled out and mailed to the history awards editor, Seattle Post - Intelligencer, for entry night, November 14.

Principal Asks Club To Give For New PA

Contributions from all active clubs, for the installation of a new public address system were called for by Burt O. Beal, principal, at the Inter-club Council meeting last Tuesday Richard McCullough, president, said.

"There are about 25 active clubs," Mr. Beal said, "and a five per cent donation from each fund including the boxing, athletic and school project fund would just about pay the $2,000 cost.

Beal Asks for Vote

Mr. Beal asked the presidents of each club to put this motion to a vote before their respective clubs. If the clubs feel they cannot donate to both this and the scholarship fund, the scholarship fund should definitely be considered first.

The PA system now in use was installed under the supervision of J. H. Chryst, chief custodian, in 1934. For 20 years Mr. Chryst took charge of all the work associated with the PA.

Assembly Set for Nov. 4

An all-club assembly has been set for Nov. 4. Each club will have from 2 to 3 minutes for a skit. The skit will give a brief sketch of the qualifications for membership and the activities of the club. The purpose of the assembly is to increase enrollment next year.

This will be the first time that an assembly of this type and purpose has been staged.

Abe Paper Wins 2 Highest Ratings

Columbia Scholastic Press Association Medalist award and the National Scholastic Press Association All-American rating are the two highest ratings in the nation awarded to high school papers for superior journalism.

These two honors were bestowed upon the Lincoln News, the Medalist rating for the 15th consecutive year and the All-American rating for the 20th consecutive time, thus keeping up the paper's traditions.

Few realize the long and hard hours of work the publishing of the paper requires, but the editors and the staff will never forget the covering of their beats, the digging for news, and the analyzing and writing of a story.

Then there were the long hours spent at the South Tacoma Star Wednesday night when the staff read copy, wrote headlines, and the editors planned the page make-ups. Thursday afternoons the editors could be found at the Star making up the page and Friday mornings they always corrected the final page dummies.

Being on the paper is not all work and no play. Nine staffers had an educational yet fun-packed week-end while attending the Pacific Slope Journalism Conference at the University of Washington, and the staff always looks forward to the annual Quill and Scroll picnic held at the end of the year, usually at Tillicum Beach, American Lake.

Working behind the scenes was the business staff of the paper. Although little was heard of this group they were always on the go soliciting adds to keep the paper financially in the black.

Oliver Zimmer and Dick Gray both won a national honorable mention in the Quill and Scroll National Scholastic writing award contest. Oliver placed in the news story division and Dick in the editorial division. Oliver's entry also was rated best in the state of Washington and Charlotte Wood received an honorable mention in the state. A national honorable mention means that the entry was rated among the 13 best in the nation.

Lincolnian Staff Meets Deadline

"Get that story in by Thursday or else."

"Hurry up with those headlines."

"Where has the Quill and Scroll picture gone?"

Those were familiar sounds in Portable I during the last few days before the deadline for all Lincolnian copy.

This year the Lincolnian staff was doubly handicapped with one of the smallest staffs in the history of the annual, and by "Old Man Weather," who held up picture taking in January with two weeks of snow and continued to be hard to get along with by pouring down rain during February and March.

Editor-in-chief Douglas Hansen, under the supervision of Adviser Homer A. Post, outlined the annual and appointed the editors in charge of each section.

Each section was prepared by its section editor and his associates. This included laying out each page and writing the copy that belonged to each picture in their editor's respective sections.

All copy had to have a carbon copy in case the original was lost and that's where the three typists big job came in. They typed and made carbon copies of all stories and cutlines in the Lincolnian.

All of the class pictures were taken by Reinhold Wilhelm, the official photographer for the Lincolnian. Don Flagg, Lincoln's photography instructor, took the club pictures, and Art Folden, with the assistance of Ron Boothe, took all the sport shots and most of the activity pictures.

After a lot of hard work, a tired but satisfied staff turned over the last piece of copy to the printers and sat back to watch one of the best annuals Lincoln has ever seen roll off the presses, ready to be distributed to almost 2,000 students.

Enthused Audiences Laud Friml's 'Firefly'

Applause that literally rocked the auditorium greeted the cast of this year's operetta, Rudolph Friml's "Firefly," as the show was acclaimed a big success by the packed houses that attended the performances.

Joan Rehn in the title role of the "Firefly" continually thrilled the audience with her fine voice in such numbers as "Giannina Mia" and "When a Maid Comes Knocking at Your Door."

Dale Malone as Jenkins literally stole the show with his fine comedy mixed with excellent facial expressions. Also outstanding in the role of Mr. Thurston was LeRoy Lahey with his fine baritone voice and suave appearance.

Don Hollis as Jack, and Matilda Fontana, as Geraldine, played their parts superbly as did Kermit Bishop in the role of Herr Franz. Others who did their parts very well were Vita Mae Collier, as Mrs. Van Dare; and Phyllis Sather, as Sybil Van Dare.

Outstanding numbers of the operetta were the "Symphony" duet by LeRoy Lahey and Matilda Fontana, "Tommy Atkins" featuring Joan Rehn and eight boys of the chorus, and "Something" with Dale Malone and Dorothy Weis.

Dickson, Mrs. Cambridge, and R. Dingfield, Dr. Romer.

'One Foot in Heaven' Termed Big Success

With the ringing down of the curtain on the last performance of the Senior Class play, Hartzell Spence's "One Foot in Heaven," 18 Senior dramatists were credited with putting on one of the best plays ever presented at Lincoln High School.

The play centered on the troubles the new minister and his family encounter when they arrive at the Laketon, Iowa, parsonage. The reverend and his wife were portrayed very excellently by Don Meredith and Mary Jo Rigney. Hartzell and Eileen, the two children, were played by Ted Bottiger and Colleen Dahl.

The character leads were portrayed by Shirley Campanoli, Oliver Zimmer, and Donna Johnson. These three enacting Mrs. Sandow, Major Cooper, and Mrs. Digby, the choir leader, were problems for Reverend Spence because of their intolerance towards the foreign settlement at the edge of the town.

Ray Dingfield as Dr. Romer played a very convincing country doctor and Dale Malone as the Bishop added to the religious atmosphere. Richard McCulloch as Fraser Spence did an excellent job with the narration.

Choir Sponsors Drive for Organ

The time, five, 10 or 50 years hence. The setting, Lincoln High School auditorium, where beautiful melodic chords, full of depth and power, are issuing forth from the organ near the stage. People are listening intensely to the guest artist perform.—All this will have been made possible by the choir of '50.

During this year the a capella choir members have taken upon themselves the project of purchasing an electric organ for the auditorium. The drive was started in the latter part of February with a series of sacred concerts which continued through March. A series of junior high school variety shows and concerts for civic organizations were given in May.

Co-sponsorship of the faculty's presentation of "You Can't Take It With You," producing a variety assembly for the student body May 29, and selling copies of "Dear Lincoln," new alma mater, finished out the list of projects undertaken by the group to complete the Organ Benefit Fund.

Ambition of the choir did not stop with the Organ Benefit Drive, for the singers were the first in 14 years to present two Christmas Vespers. Each drew capacity audiences.

Averaging more than one concert a week the musicians sang at Gault and Stewart Junior Highs and appeared at the annual Sunrise Service of the Knights Templar, they also participated at the State Parent-Teachers Association convention held in Tacoma.

Rudolf Friml's "The Firefly," was the ambitious musical undertaken by the choir and music department. It was presented April 27-28.

Formal dedication of the electric organ took place at the Spring Concert May 26. The instrument was a contributory factor to the program.

Officers for this year were Joan Rehn, president; Ken Norman, 1st vice-president; Matilda Fontana, 2nd vice-president; Bille Ellis, corresponding secretary; Mary Ellen Murphy, secretary; Burt Wold, treasurer; Elanor Nemec, historian. Dick Gray was business manager.

Section leaders are Vita Mae Collier, soprano; Lynn Munroe, alto; Don Hollis, tenor; Le Roy Lahey, baritone; Ken Upton, baritone; Gerald Northrup, bass.

Junior Choir Proves Training for Singers

Some of the best voices in Lincoln are in Lincoln's newest musical group, the Junior Choir.

This group was organized by Mrs. Margaret Goheen, choir instructor, in mid-semester last year and, since then, has become a valuable training ground for prospective members of the senior choir.

This year, the Junior Choir supplied two of the leads in the operetta "Firefly," and they also performed in the Christmas Vespers, in matinees, and at the graduation exercises.

Advanced Glee Ends Busy Year

Dressed in their newly-adopted uniforms, long-sleeved white blouses, dark skirts, and black and gold ties, the Advanced Girls' Glee Club appeared as the honored guests of Pacific Lutheran College's "Choir of the West."

This was but one of the many performances put in by this busy girls' organization during the past year. In addition to being honored guests, they also gave concerts for the KMO and KTBI radio stations, sang for the Daffodil Festival at the College of Puget Sound, and appeared in a school assembly.

Beginners' Glee Shows Promise

Emaculate in their white blouses and dark skirts girls filed silently on to the platform to perform at the new teachers' tea. This was the Beginner's Girls' Glee Club.

Under the direction of Maynard Ponko, the girls were taught the fundamentals of group singing, and caroled from the balcony at the Christmas Vespers. They also worked on trio singing, and as a result of this, one of the trios, consisting of LaVonne Dahl, Lucille Lentz, and Carol Lott, went directly from Beginner's Glee to the Junior Choir.

Boys' Glee Performs In Christmas Vespers

Singing in the Christmas Vespers, work on barber shop melodies and forming of individual quartettes were the season's highlights for one of the hardest working groups in the musical department, the Boys' Glee Club.

Under the direction of Maynard Ponko, the first semester and Robert Dezell, the second semester, the boys turned in a fine year of work. The Boys' Glee has always been considered the first step toward the rising to the a cappella choir and some of the boys were good enough to go from Glee to the Junior Choir.

Sextets Entertain At Assemblies, P-T.A.

Two of the busiest musical groups to be found in Lincoln were the two girls' sextets, the "Cleff Dwellers" and the "Linkettes."

The "Cleff Dwellers" consisting of Iris Kuhn, Delores Thorson, Alma Olson, Ann Lanz, and Joanne Kroenig, with Jeanie Gilbertsen as their pianist, sang for the Thanksgiving Assembly and the Parent-Teacher Association.

The "Linkettes" consisting of Gloria Vidak, Mary Ellen Murphy, Phyllis Sather, Roberta Smith, Billie Ellis, and Rita Benham sang at the Annie Wright Seminary, Fort Lewis, and Normanna Hall. They also appeared before the Parent-Teacher Association and sang in the Christmas Assembly.

Boys' Quartet Sings For Many Groups

Mmm. 'Down by the old mill stream where I first met you'.—And the Lincoln quartet, "The Uncalled Four" steps into the spotlight to sing for one of their many request appearances.

The quartet consisting of Bob Norman, Ken Norman, Don Warber, and Jerry Northrup completed a busy year singing for many groups as well as singing with the choir at several concerts.

Brass Quintet Wins Excellent Rating

Winning of an excellent rating at the Western Washington Music Contest at Highline was only one of the many things accomplished by the brass quintet unit of the band.

Consisting of Glen Cole and Tom Hibben, trumpets; Jack McClary, French horn; Wayne Fix, baritone; and Dick Schrum, trombone, the quintet appeared before many groups. At school, they played for assemblies and rendered carols at Christmas time. In addition to this, they toured the junior high schools. They traveled to Fife High School to appear and played for the Giro Rotary Club.

Clarinet Quartet Rates Excellent

Winning of an excellent rating at the Western Washington Music Conference highlighted the activities for one of the newest musical groups at Lincoln, the clarinet quartet.

Comprised of four girls, Sue Davidson, Jackie Gault, Joan Lukenbill, and Marilyn Peterson, the quartet played for various service clubs, Fort Lewis army organizations, and assemblies at Gray and Stewart junior high schools. In addition to this, the girls played in the spring concert and appeared in two after-school matinees.

Woodwin Quintet Is Newest Group

Superior, the best possible, was the rating given at the Western Washington Music Contest held at Highline last March to Lincoln's newest musical group, the Woodwin quintet.

This group, composed of Jo Anne Spacek, flute; Kenneth Coon, oboe; Gerald Larson, clarinet; Jack McClary, french horn; and Wayne Fix, euphonium, has played on several radio programs and at junior high school assemblies, during the past year.

This quintet was organized by Robert Dezell, band and orchestra leader, for the first time this year, but has been such a success that it probably will become a Lincoln tradition.

Band Grows With Finer Musicians

On the up grade. That description fits the Lincoln band to a "T".

According to Robert Dezell, director, this group is both bigger and better than last year. This year there were 58 members and everyone of them was an accomplished musician.

Their morale was very high this year even to the point where every member would show up at after school practices for football games.

They marched and played at every home football game and paraded with Marcetta Ki at Bellingham. Often the band assisted the drill team in creating different drills. Once they took the formation of a boat while Marcetta Ki made the sail and another time they formed the bubble pipe while the marchers made the bubbles. Marching and playing at the same time is a hard enough job, but when you add the job of forming a drill, that's a real accomplishment that any band can be proud of. Leading the band members in these drills was Scott MacArthur who acted as drum major during the past year.

Serving as officers this year were Jack McClary, president, and Sue Davidson, secretary. A discipline committee consisting of Wayne Fix, Bob Strode, Ronald Pearson, Dick Schrum, Kenneth Cooves and JoAnne Spacek was also elected at the beginning of the year.

The Boy Scout Circus was one of the biggest jobs for which the band had to prepare music during this year. They also played in assemblies at various Junior High Schools including Gault, Gray, Stewart and McCarver.

Basketball and football games were both in their schedule which also included a program at the Pierce County Teachers Institute.

For the first time in two years the band put on its own assembly. It was a big success and will probably become an annual affair, Mr. Dezell said.

They participated in both the Spring concert and the Daffodil Parade.

Perhaps their most magnificent and best remembered appearance was their performance at the commencement exercises.

Orchestra Becomes Bigger, Better

Not always in the limelight but always there when they're needed. That's Lincoln's orchestra.

"Bigger and better," is the way Robert Dezell, their director, described this year's orchestra. The group now has 42 members.

Several members of the orchestra won Superior ratings at the Northwest Music Education Festival held in Highline last February. They were: Wayne Fix, euphonium; JoAnne Sivertsen, flute; Kenneth Coon, oboe; Jackie Gault, clarinet; and Gerry Larson, clarinet.

After weeks of rehearsals, the group entered the annual district band and orchestra contest at Jason Lee Junior High School in April.

During the past year this musical group participated in both the midwinter concert and the May concert. Both of these affairs are annual events for the orchestra.

Assemblies were given by this group in both Franklin B. Gault and Jason Lee Junior High Schools.

This group supplied musical entertainment during the intermission of the Senior Class play, "One Foot in Heaven."

Superior, the highest possible, is the rating that twenty-eight high school orchestras were trying for at the Northwest Music Association contest held in Tacoma on April 29. Out of these twenty-eight, Lincoln's orchestra was the only one to take the superior rating. According to Mr. Robert Dezell, this was the first time Lincoln's orchestra has taken this rating since 1938. This contest is an annual affair. The pieces that the orchestra won their rating with were: "Serenade for Strings" by Mozart, "Magiv Flute Overture" by Mozart, and the "First Movement of Beethoven's First symphony."

The dedication of the new organ was the big event at the May concert, in which the orchestra had a major part. This is an annual concert given by the Choir, the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, the Band and the Orchestra.

Head Majorettes Rate A-1 in Tourney

Strutting down the street with flashing batons in the lead of the band in the Daffodil Parade April 1, brought to a close another busy year for the band majorettes, but not before the head majorettes, Pat Murphy and Pat Martin had won an excellent rating for twirling at the Western Washington music conference.

This year, the girls numbered seven, the largest staff of majorettes ever to lead the band. Because of the increased number it was difficult for all of them to appear at once.

With the close of football season, the girls put up their batons, with the exception of the two Pats, Murphy and Martin, who competed in the music conference and toured the junior high schools giving twirling exhibitions. The girls also twirled for the Girls' Club assembly.

Yell Leaders Inspire Pep in Abe Students

We're with you team, so fight! We're with you team, so fight!

Looking down from the top of the bowl one can see and hear six hustling figures rushing back and forth waving their arms. A player comes off the field and in a minute they are up again leading a cheer for the boy. This is a picture of the never tiring yell team's work.

The yell leaders this year were Tommy Davidson, Jackie Cootes, Pat Hoit, Bob Beardsly, Marion Myers, Phil Simons, Bob Norman, and Ken Patterson. The latter two replaced Bob Beardsly and Phil Simons during the second semester.

All types of weather, rain, cold, and sleet, greeted the leaders but they put in a year of good yelling, always appearing to cheer the team on to victory. During basketball season they never wheried of yelling in the hot and stuffy gym. Winning of the city title meant more work for them as they prepared new yells, painted signs for the halls and buses, and generally bolstered the pep of the student body.

Junior-Senior Prom Features 'Futurama'

Dear Diary,

At last, dear Diary, it really happened, the "Futurama," I mean. Remember way back in January when I first began writing about it? At that time we thought it would be on January 20, but then we had that awful snow storm and had to postpone it to the 28th. The snow continued and we finally had to settle on March 3 as our Prom date.

Dad finally broke down and got me that new strapless formal. It's so modern! It just had to be in order to fit in with the modernistic decorations that Billie Bamford designed for the dance.

Billie was in charge of the decorations, and had the whole art department working with her. Huge, multi-colored crepe-paper flowers decorated the walls, while large, pastel clouds were suspended from the ceiling.

Jack McClary and Dan Mackey were the general chairmen for the Prom and were, thus, in charge of choosing someone to design the programs. They chose Wayne Zimmerman, (you know, the boy who won the National Scholastic Art Award), who succeeded in designing one of the cutest programs that I have ever seen.

The dance program was very futuristic with modern skyscrapters etched on a grey background in red. A silky red tassle added a dashing touch to this valued keepsake.

Oh! I almost forgot to tell you about one of the most wonderful features of the whole dance. It was that Iverson Cozart's band played for us. Each dance had a modernistic title in keeping with the modern theme of the Prom. "Modern Madness" and "Future Fantasy" were two of these.

It was sure hard to recognize a lot of my friends behind their filmy formals, special hairdos, and lovely corsages and the boys were equally handsome that night in their snappy suits and dashing boutonnieres. Prevailing over all was an atmosphere of unreality and dreamy happiness.

Everything was so wonderful and gay that I could hardly believe it when Ivy Cozart played "I'll See You In My Dreams" and the couples began drifting homeward.

This refers to one of the hardest-working groups of boys in school, the stage crew.

Few people realize the hard work that goes into a production that appears on the Lincoln stage. In the big shows, the Senior Class play and operetta, the boys, under the direction of Fredrick Babbitt, put in a month's preparation work on the stage.

Boys' Club Aids Needy With Gifts

Possessing the reputation of being one of the most active clubs at Lincoln, Boys' Club has been kept busy with their school programs, charity projects and social events this year.

Assisting the sophomores and new students in finding their way around on the first day of school was the first task accomplished by the Boys' Club.

Credit can be given them for sponsoring the annual "Howdy Dance," the first dance of the year. Over $425 was made and used for their charity projects and for school funds, such as the scholarship and the organ funds.

The holiday season brought the most active time of the year to the club members. At Thanksgiving time they collected food and money to feed and clothe needy families of the city. Gifts were not only donated to families in this vicinity, but some packages were shipped to Germany and other overseas countries.

Children of the Remann Home and the Indian Hospital were the happy recipients of gifts purchased by Boys' and Girls' Clubs as they worked in unison on their Christmas project. Roller skates, basketballs, baseballs and other sporting equipment, along with underclothing were distributed at the Remann Home. The sick little lads and lassies of the Indian Hospital received a phonograph and a choice selection of records as their Christmas gift.

The cabinet also traveled to Bellingham High School to study the management of their Boys' Club. Those making the trip were Joe Graham, president; Don Rogers, vice-president; Ed Darnell, corresponding secretary; Russ Wilkerson, recording secretary; Dick Racek, treasurer; Frank Graham, welfare chairman; Bill Hartman, social chairman; and Bob Romnes, representative to council.

Future plans include mailing the Lincolnian and a year's subscription of the Lincoln News to a student in Japan.

At the close of the year, elections were held for new officers, and protective covers for the Lincolnian were sold by the club.

Girls' Club Aids Patients, Children

The Good Samaritans of Lincoln.

Having devoted many unselfish hours of work for the happiness of others, the members of Girls' Club are well worthy of this title.

To start the year out well financially, the girls sponsored a doughnut and maple bar sale the first day of school and then proceeded with their many activities that make them representative of a miniature United Nations.

Their Thanksgiving project was to supply favors and candy for the patients at Mountain View Sanitorium, the County and Cushman hospitals and the residents of the Home on the Hill.

At Christmas time, co-operating with Boys' Club, the members voted on a number of projects and supported them in the order of the number of votes each received. The happy recipients of the benefits of the members' contributions were the patients at the Cushman and Pierce County hospitals. Gifts for underprivileged children of the Welfare and Remann Hall were also purchased from the $105 netted in the Christmas project drive.

During the year, two all-member meetings were held in the form of general assemblies. As a result of one of these sessions, the girls decided to combine two of their most outstanding functions of the year by holding their impressive installation services in pastels and the annual Mother-Daughter Soiree on May 16.

In the fall, the Annual Homecoming Dance was again sponsored by Girls' Club and a queen, Beverly McBride, was chosen to reign over the affair in attendance with Helen Hudson and Crystal Judson.

But Girls' Club has not climaxed the year without thinking of a service that they can perform next year. In collaboration with Boys' Club, they have undertaken a project of supplying a Japanese school with a subscription to the Lincoln News, a copy of the Lincolnian and also magazine subscriptions for the girls in the school.

It is no exaggeration to say that in the 1949-50 term, Girls' Club has lived up to their purpose of service.

Takolah Gives Xmas, Spring Tolos

Opening what proved to be one of the most successful years in the club's history, Takolah club had its first meeting early in September to introduce the new officers and to acquaint new members with the procedure to be followed. Before becoming active members, new students must attend meetings over a certain period of time.

On their calendar for October, Helen Davis, fashion authority, was guest speaker. The topic for her talk was her trip to New York and fashions there. "Football Night" and "Queen's Husband" highlighted the club's events for November. Receipts from the Tacoma Little Theatre production starring Wallace Scott and Mrs. Maxine Goodman, were turned over to the treasury of the club. Colors of black and white decorated the boys' gymnasium for the "Mistletolo" on Dec. 27. Following this came the "Spaghetti Twist" at Weyerhauser Hall in the Young Women's Christian Association.

Starring in the month of February was the "Cinderella Ball" which was held in the boys' gymnasium amid a pastel color scheme. In March the Religion Committee brought an interesting speaker who demonstrated dances and taught the girls how to Rhumba and Samba.

A district conference in Seattle took the spotlight on the calendar for April 18. Delegates to this convention were Jeanie Halliday and Marilyn Peterson. Also booked for April, was the Officers' Rally at Weyerhaeuser Hall on the 23rd. The Senior Farewell Banquet, one of the most important events for the year, was scheduled for May 3. During this dinner, the $100 Takolah Scholarship was to be awarded to the most deserving member to put toward a college education. Initiation of new officers was also featured during this affair. Pastel colors highlighted the last event of this year, the spring tolo on May 12, at the New Yorker.

Foresters Build Road to Arboretum

"Tall timbers calling . . . . ."

. . . . . and the members of Forestry Club, 23 strong, answered in the wooded area of the tree farm, where the club arboretum is located.

Sunday after Sunday they could be found at the camp site clearing land and laying the footing for the kitchen.

They have beautified the entrance to their camp by lining the road they themselves constructed with shrubs and the state flower and in the future they will seek to fulfill the real dream of the club, a lodge at the camp site to be used for recreational purposes.

Among their projects this year to raise money for the arboretum were the sale of Christmas trees, and a dance, which climaxed their annual Forestry Week, held this year May 14-19. The dance was entitled "Sawdust Shuffle" and followed the theme of the week, in which the different days were dubbed, "Red Hat Day," "Mad Plaid Day," "Tool Day" and "Evergreen Day." Every year Forestry Week is held to promote a better appreciation of our forest heritage.

The aspiring Paul Bunyans were to take time out for a bit of relaxation when on a cruise down the sound May 28. Using the tree farm for a perfect location, they scheduled a picnic for May 14, inviting Superintendent of Schools Goold, Superintendent of Schools-elect, Dr. Blankenship, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Hoar, Principal Beal, and Vice-Principal Hardie.

With the aid of A. F. Carlson, who accompanied the members to the arboretum each Sunday and Mr. Bonham, who supervised all school activities, Darrel Robbins, president, and the club had a very successful year. Another factor aiding the development of the club was the donation of building materials by the Tacoma-St. Paul Lumber Company, which greatly enhanced the club's progress toward their goal.

That goal is to stress the importance of our forests in the minds of all young Americans and to help reforest Washington's timber lands.

Marchers Drill At Games, Parades

"Tweet! Tweet! Tweet!

"The stadium lights glare down, the band sounds a lively march and at the sound of a shrill whistle, a host of 78 girls strut forward in precision step out on to the football field and form a shield and banner.

"The formation breaks. In single file, in two's, four's and in six's they continue stepping to their home side and spell out LYNX."

Thus went the radiocast of the half-time game entertainment at the annual King's X game, as Marcetta Ki drilled the first time of the football season.

It is the purpose of Marcetta Ki, to provide entertainment at various athletic events and to march in parades of special occasion, both of which have been completed.

Marcetta Ki marched at the Bremerton, Everett, Bellingham, Seattle, Stadium and Bellarmine games with Lincoln and at the C.P.S and P.L.C. games, the Lincoln Turkey Derby and the Daffodil Parade.

Among the drills used, such formations as a sailboat, a windmill, a moon and a bubble pipe were seen. At one unusual performance, the stadium was darkened and each girl holding a sparkler, formed an illuminous star.

Combining with Stadium Tigerannas at the Thanksgiving Day game, they formed the American Flag and a turkey with an axe which swung down and cut the head off.

Gerry Haliday, Pat Jezek, and Lolita Lowell, were chosen queen and princesses for the Turkey Derby and Parade sponsored by the businessmen of the Lincoln district. Marcetta Ki marched at this parade on 38th Street.

Another new item this year on the agenda of the club, was their private study hall during the second period. All members met there and whenever the weather permitted, practice was held then, eliminating after-school rehearsal.

The club is not all work and no play. An out of town trip was sponsored by club members. A Christmas party and slumber party, and the Annual Basketball Dance helped complete the social activities of the year.

German Club Packs Overseas Boxes

Sporting their club pin with its unique design of an old fashioned beer stein, backed with barley sprague, "Der Deutsche Verein," or the German Club members may be seen busily packing overseas boxes or ending a meeting with a tuneful German folk song.

Creating a better knowledge of the German language and providing occasion for an informal use of it, stands first on the criterion of the club, which has completed its first active year among the ranks of other clubs.

Members of the German classes were busy working on their paper, "Der Deutsche Dackel," which was organized several years ago. Aggressiveness and initiative pushed them forward. The result—a constitution was drawn up and approved, over sixty persons joined, and elected Frank Graham as their president.

Helping others who cannot help themselves, has been one of the fine standards of the club. Collecting money, food and clothing to send to families in Germany, consumed a good share of their time. Three families of the city were fed during the Christmas season from the food the club members donated.

Caroling also falls on the list of their activities. Songs in both German and English were heard drifting from street to street as they made a tour of the south and north sides of the city. Members hope to make an annual event of the caroling during Christmas week.

The "Cherry Tree Trot" dance held in the boys' gym and an after-school candy sale were sponsored to raise money for the school scholarship fund and the new public address system fund.

"Fun for All," was the by-word at a splash party for members held in the pool and at a picnic sponsored for the German classes at Steel Lake.

Under the supervision and guidance of Mrs. Selma Muller and Arnold Mitby, "Der Deutsche Verein" has made their first year an active and successful year.

Fairlee Rowland was chosen as president for next year, at an election held early in May. Other officers are Shun Ling, vice-president; Beaetta Lambert, secretary; Dick Schrum, treasurer; and Bob Romnus, service chairman.

Ushers Carry on Duties with a Smile

"Tickets, please."

"Right this way, sir."

"Excuse us, please."

In this polite manner, the members of Usher Club carried out their many duties with capable, efficient ways and a friendly smile.

Applying these mannerisms, the girls, dressed neatly in dark skirts, crisp blouses and dark shoes, have aided in the success of such presentations as the Christmas Vespers, the Senior Class Play, and the Operetta. While performers basked in glory on the stage, the girls worked quietly in the background taking tickets, seating patrons and maintaining order in the audience. Their work was unsung, yet they played an important part in the perfection of the performance.

Their renown has carried their activities away from just school functions. They were called upon by the University Women's organization to usher at a children's play presented at the Temple Theatre.

Nor were their duties confined to just the auditorium in aiding at school productions. They donated their time and service to Tuna Club's water show, proving their versatility to take over in any situation.

Supplementing their work with a few social functions, the girls, under the direction of Billee Bamford, president, and Mrs. Cloma Dolan, their adviser, held a potluck dinner, inviting all members and their friends. At that dinner, all those members who had previously ushered at two matinees, and one evening performance were presented with the Usher Club gold and black pin.

To build up their treasury, the Usherettes sponsored a doughnut sale at the beginning of the year and to give the next year's members "something to go on" they held a dance May 5 which carried out the Spring theme.

The end of a successful season for the old cabinet members will be the beginning for the new ones, who will have charge of seating the many Baccalaureate and graduation exercises attendants.

Debaters Win Tourneys, Give Dance

"Resolved: That the president of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people."

Thus states the national resolution for debate for this past year. Lincoln's Debate Club has entered vigorously into this debate both pro and con.

With their adviser, Maynard Ponko, the club has been progressing and growing steadily. Joan Buckner was elected as this year's president with Jim Traynor, vice-president; Douglas Hansen, secretary-treasurer; and Ed Olmstead, sergeant-at-arms to assist her in their various capacities.

"Hobgoblin Hop," the Halloween dance, was sponsored by the club and hailed as a success.

These young and ambitious debaters have entered several contests here in Washington. Bill Michael won second place in the Washington State Resources Oratorical Contest.

Nine delegates represented Lincoln at the College of Puget Sound debate tournament, while five went to the University of Washington discussion tournament.

A Student Congress at Pacific Lutheran College brought Douglas Hansen third place in the state on the Ways and Means committee.

This group has been particularly active in the inter-scholastic debates. The Lincoln teams have participated with Puyallup, Fife, Stadium, Kent-Meridian, and Clover Park high schools.

New methods of speaking and debating have been introduced into this year's plans. They include practicing of the Lincoln-Douglas style of debate, university style, interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, and cross-examination.

Many of the students have earned their letters for either the first or second team according to the number of debates that they participated in and the number from which they were victorious. A student must have participated in one-fourth of the debates presented during the year to earn a letter.

Time is an important element to these students of English speaking and much of it is given into study at the home of Mr. Ponko, outside library investigation, and the searching for the proof of the facts which they use in their work.

Tuna Clubbers Perfect Water Arts

". . . . . one, two, three."

Body poised, arms in position, a slight spring, and the sleek, black-clad form of a Tuna Club member breaks the blue surface with a precision-timed dive.

This was a regular scene in the girls' pool each week when the Tuna Clubbers met to continue many hours of time and practice in perfecting their swimming arts. The aquamaids were already quite accomplished swimmers before entering the club; for an applicant must know the front crawl, the back crawl, the side stroke, back stroke, duck dive and a surface dive in order to gain membership.

The girls set sail at the first of the year with a series of concessions to raise money for bathing suits, their treasury and the spring show.

In January they plowed through rough seas of practice until April when they drifted into the calm to present their colorful annual spring show, entitled "Holidays." With the aid of four members of the boys' swimming team, Tuna Club presented a number of waterborne acts depicting the different holidays with aquatic Easter bunnies, a nautical Fourth of July celebration and a mock swimming and diving class faring well as an April Fool's Day presentation.

The girls gave three performances, one matinee and two evening.

Even with all their preparation and training for the show, the girls still found time for two splash parties with the boys' swimming team. Combining two phases of sports, they engaged in games of water basketball and water volleyball.

Under the direction of Mrs. Vivian Sterling, their adviser, the girls met every Tuesday after school in the girls' pool to practice the different dives and strokes. The last Friday of each month they held their business meeting with Lorna McCrary presiding.

As in years past, the aquamaids set their course for clear horizons and followed it rigidly till they reached their destination—that of a superb exposition of coordination in swimming techniques.

Smooth sailing, Tuna Clubbers!!!

Camera Enthusiasts Snap Action Photos; French Club Sends France Food, Clothing

"Watch the birdie!" is a common expression to the many shutter enthusiasts who have become members of Camera Club.

When these students are not having classroom club meetings, they have field trips to points of interest where their knowledge of photography is put into use. Swapping of these shots aids the students in shooting more discriminating pictures. The darkroom on the first floor is also a popular meeting place. Here the students have learned the preliminaries of enlarging photographs as well as developing their own film. A cookie sale and fudge sale added funds to the treasury of the club.

Sheldon Brooks has been adviser for this active group for the past year. He was ably assisted by the elected officers. The cabinet consisted of Peggy Eaton, president; Art Folden, vice-president; Pat Johnson, secretary; and Douglas Hughes, treasurer.

Parlez-vous francais, monsieur?

French speaking students, under the leadership of Mrs. Janet Harvey, have eagerly been gathering clothes and food for an orphanage in France under Sister Renee.

This group has had one candy and one maple bar sale during the year. They also planned a party for Angele Messelin, former club adviser. Most of the members are corresponding with students of French high schools, through which they learn more about the customs and life in France at the present time.

The purpose of the club is to better acquaint the members with France and to permit them to put into use their newly acquired language.

The club's success during the year was largely due to its officers, Jean Ellickson, president; Fran Ellertson, vice-president; and Alice Holtz, secretary-treasurer.

Ideal of Hi-Y Club Is Service, Achievement; Lynx Skaters Give Skating Party, Picnic

Health - betterment, mind - improvement, soul - enrichment, and service - achievement, are the ideals set up as the objective of 42 members of the Lincoln Hi-Y.

Programs are sponsored every year to instruct members in youth in government. All officers of Hi-Y attended the convention held in Aberdeen, and Frank Graham and Kenny Pim were representatives to the model legislature held in Olympia.

Service to the school is a "must" with all clubsters. Keeping watch at the lunchroom doors, seeing that tables are kept clean, checking the locker room, selling cokes at basketball games, and raising money for the public address system, Organ, and the Scholarship Fund, were on the agenda of activities.

Social activities consisted of planning and promoting the annual Football Night, program and a dance following later in the boys' gym.

One of the more enjoyable clubs at Lincoln is the Roller Skating Club with Arnold Carlson as adviser. Meetings are held every other week alternating at King's Rink and Roller Bowl. The purpose of this very active club is to promote finer skill and more enjoyment in roller skating.

Adding money to the club's treasury was a candy sale. A large Halloween roller skating party at the Roller Bowl was another highlight on the year's calendar. As a climax to a year of fellowship through roller skating, the club planned a picnic on May 28. Lake Wilderness was selected for the site. For the first time in the club's short history, pins have been purchased for the members.

The success of these activities was largely the result of the fine work done by its officers. They were Alfred Johnson, president; Margery Daugherty, vice-president; Dorothy Long, secretary; and Edna Miller, treasurer.

Skaters Improve Skill, Hold Parties, Sales; Retail Club Promotes Better Salesmanship

Clicking blades and figure eights cut in ice attract many people to ice arenas every day. Among these eager enthusiasts are members of Lincoln's Ice Skating Club.

Meetings and skating at the Lakewood Ice Arena highlight the week's events for these young ice skaters. Funds for the club have largely been provided for with three or four ice skating parties yearly. Also adding to the treasury was a cookie sale and a doughnut sale.

The club has a new adviser this year in the person of Miss Elizabeth Washburn. Aiding Miss Washburn in their respective offices are Lila Kissick, president; Maureen Nelson, vice-president; Donna Harrelson, secretary; and Joyce Ostland, treasurer.

Only in its second year, this club is devoting itself to promoting interest in finer ice skating as well as grace and form in skating.

Promotion of better salesmanship and a more friendly relationship between the student employee and the employer is the aim of the Distributive Education Club.

Distributive education is a state and national organization. Enrollment in the D.E. class is necessary for membership in the club, which has approximately 30 members.

Election of officers are held twice a year. Dora Lee Hunter was president the first semester and the club finished out the spring and summer semester under the capable management of Bill Hamlin as president.

State conventions are held bi-annually. Governors are elected and one is chosen to represent the state in the National convention at Tennessee. Bill Hamlin was governor at the Olympia convention and Dora Lee Hunter, Jean Olson, and Lenore Anderson were representatives to the Walla Walla meeting.

Latin Club Studies Roman Habits

With a study of the relationship between ancient Greek and Roman culture, the Latin Club has been holding its meetings and discussions every first and third Tuesday.

Miss Ethel Brinegar and Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Latin teachers, are advisers of this club, which has been promoted for the study of this ancient language and its people. Assisting the advisers were Ethel Scafturon, consul; June Zylstra, vice-consul; Louise Bradford, aedile or secretary; and Rosemarie Taylor, quaestor or treasurer. At the end of the semester, the consul and vice-consul exchanged offices. This system of two consuls, which the club uses, originated with the ancient Roman plan of government.

Fund raising projects this year called for a swimming party at the Young Men's Christian Association on February 18. One candy sale and a popcorn ball sale also added to their treasury. They contributed to many of the funds about school such as the scholarship funds and the fund for the new student court.

The meetings are held in a manner similar to the routine of the Roman senate. Speakers, mostly students, give talks on the different forms of life in Rome and the surrounding villages. These short and varied talks consider many of the different classes among the Roman people.

Plays illustrating different phases of Roman life, demonstrate more adequately to the members of the club the type of government and home life under which the ancient Romans existed. This type of illustration, as well as visual education, is considered much more valuable to the student who is interested in this type of study.

This year as a variation from the regular program of research on Roman culture, the club had a series of talks by Latin students on ancient Greek life and its relation and comparison with that of the Latins. A great similarity was found in the two entirely different types of people.

The Latin Club pin, which was first made available to its members last year, is formed with a laurel wreath and torch, which is an old Roman insignia of war.

As the last event of the year, the club held a picnic at Steele Lake a few days before the close of school.

Pep Club Sponsors Pep Week, Buses

Your Pep! Your Pep! You got it, Now keep it, don't lose it, your pep! In case you haven't guessed, this is Pep Club and this yell could be heard coming from Pep Club's 65 strong at any game this year.

With the opening of school and football season came the Pep Club cheering the team on. During the month of September, Pep Club made over 300 pom poms besides the signs they made and put up for the Grid-Go-Round. For their stunt, they formed a black "L" on a gold background by holding cards over their heads.

Preparations for the Turkey Day game began soon after the Grid-Go-Round with the sale of booster ribbons which read "Go Get 'em Lincoln."

Just the week before the Turkey Day game, November 14-18 Pep Club held its annual Pep week. Lollypop Day, Hard Times Day and School Spirit Day featured the week. The club held a Lollypop sale the afternoon before this day and sold big red and white suckers. School Spirit Day was a success. Nearly everyone turned up in their black and yellow outfits in keeping with the school colors. This day ended Pep week.

At last, Thanksgiving Day arrived and the Abe Pep Club combined with the Stadium group in 40 some cars for the parade through town before the game.

The club sponsored various sales throughout the year in order to lower the cost for buses for out-of-town games so that more Lincolnites might go to these games and root for their team.

This active group also took part in Football Night and the Inter-Club assembly. The annual Pep Club dance was not held this year.

The peak of this club's activities was reached this year when our basketball team went to the state tournament. Pep Club worked harder than ever now putting up big signs and getting buses to go to Seattle to let the team know that we were backing them 100 percent.

Every member of Pep Club can truly be proud to wear the little gold pin which reads PEP.

Races, Dance Highlight Skiers' Year

Two narrow racks, a white cloud of snow, and the sharp cut of cold wind across their faces have attracted many Lincolnites to the extent of joining one of Lincoln's more active clubs, Ski Club.

Mrs. Jessie Hutton has been serving as their adviser. Assisting, she has had the officers of the club, Bill Goettling, president; Dwaine Good, vice-president; Georgia Luther, secretary; and Lorna McCrary, treasurer. The meetings are held every Wednesday night at 7:30 in portable 2. They consist of making plans for trips to the mountain and other skiing excursions.

Highlighting the month of January for these ski enthusiasts was the "Sno-Ball," the club's annual dance on January 7. Several trips were made during the year to Chinook and Snoqualmie Passes for skiing excursions. Many of the members took part in an inter-club downhill race. The ardent fans of this sport took much time and energy in preparation for this affair. April 19 was the date set for a pot-luck lunch party at the home of Bill Goettling. The evening was spent making plans for the various club activities through June.

Inter-school races sponsored by the Tacoma Athletic Association were begun this year for the first time. Several schools of Pierce County have entered into this project with great enthusiasm. If the interest shown thus far continues, the plan will probably be followed again in future years.

The number of hours required for membership was reduced due to the severe weather which visited the surrounding country this winter. Many of the students also found trouble in finding transportation. Regardless of several sever storms, the members found much enjoyable skiing both on excursions and on individual trips.

Many student members were also attracted to the Tacoma Ski Club, where they came in contact with other ski enthusiasts like themselves.

To wind up an eventful year, the students planned a picnic at the ocean beach at Grayland, on May 28. Picnicking and swimming were to highlight the day's activities.

Journalists Receive Quill and Scroll Pins; Fellowship Club Holds Daily Meetings

In a candle-lit ceremony beside the blue waters of American Lake, 10 young aspiring journalists solemnly promised to aid the cause of better journalism.

Thus 10 new members were initiated into the Lincoln Chapter of Quill and Scroll, national journalistic honor society. The qualifications for membership are not easily obtained without long and hard work in either the newspaper, yearbook or advertising departments. An aspirant must be at least a junior, must be in the upper third of his class and must have done superior work in writing, editing or business management.

But it is not all work and no play for these club members. The initiation picnic, at which the small gold Quill and Scroll pins are given in recognition of the members' services, is the highlight of the year. Swimming, baseball, a steak-fry, the impressive ceremony and other gala activities brought a happy close to another year.

One of the most enthusiastic clubs is the Lincoln Christian Fellowship Club, which has daily meetings during the lunch periods.

With Mrs. Ecile Haddow as adviser, the club has held two parties as well as a picnic late in the spring.

Their programs consist of prayer, speakers, Bible verses, testimonies, and choruses.

The group, which runs as two separate organizations has two sets of officers. For first lunch, the officers are Janet Peterson, president; Darlene Bee, vice-president; Nancy Archer, secretary; and Lucille Keller, treasurer. During the second lunch, officers are Lois Ann Eyers, president; Frank Butts, vice-president; Mary Ellen Murphy, secretary; and Gordon Galloway, treasurer.

From September to January the officers were Ruth Weed, president; Anna Louise Tveter, vice-president; Audree Knudson, secretary; and Janet Buckner, treasurer.

L. L. L. Sponsors Posture Parade, Hop

In the surroundings of cooperation, friendliness and all the things that go to make up good sportsmanship, 37 girls solemnly took the oath that links them together as Lincoln Letter Lassies.

Presiding over L.L.L. along with President Ann Stovner, is Beverly Von Rotz, vice president; Fusako Uyeda, secretary, Lorna McCrary, treasurer and Betty Ammann, sports head, whose job it is to keep track of points earned towards a letter. Betty was also chairman of the Awards Assembly.

With the guidance and help of Mrs. Vivian Sterling and Mrs. Jessie Hutton, L.L.L. rounds out a full years' sports program of volleyball, basketball and softball as team sports while swimming, badminton, tumbling, bowling, riflery and hiking are individual sports.

As the result of the time and hard work L.L.L. spent on the Thanksgiving Day game they were able to purchase something new for the girls' gym last year. From now on, they plan to purchase something new for the girls' gym at the end of each year.

"Jesters Jump" given by L.L.L. March 31, found the boys' gym turned into a gaily decorated room of Jack-in-the-boxes in bright colors of red, dark blue and yellow and such things as truly suggest "April Fool." Beverly Von Rotz was chairman of the dance.

March 9, the annual Posture Parade was presented in the girls' gym with 36 candidates in competition. First place went to Sharon Hodgert, second place to Anita Hale and third place to Joanne Dunbar. Honorable mention went to Joanne Wilson. The awards were made by R. H. Hager, supervisor of health and physical education in the Tacoma schools at the Award Assembly May 19. This terminated the club's activities and girls were presented with letters and pins accordingly.

Honor Club Sponsors Mixers, Candy Sales; 22 Seniors Earn Right To Wear Torch Pins

"What are those little stars beside those graduating seniors' names?

"Oh, that means that they have acquired their Torch pins by earning service credits and maintaining a membership in Honor Society with a 3.2 grade average."

This is a dream fulfilled by an honored few who have worked and strived during their years at Lincoln to earn this coveted pin.

To contribute to the various school funds, such as Public Address and Scholarship, the club sponsored candy sales.

An all-school mixer was one of the club's largest functions this year, with swimming in the boys' and girls' pools and dancing and games in both gyms.

Next year the club is looking toward the responsibility of handling all the applications for scholarships submitted by graduating seniors.

Through sincere, zealous effort, initiative, and aggressiveness, 22 Lincoln seniors earned the right to wear the Torch Pin of the Honor Society. These are Ted Clausen, Rosemary Needham, Rosemarie Murphy, Barbara Lynn Munroe, Donald Rogers, Ella Mae Hansen, Donna Jean Bosley, Joyce Lombardo, Hugh Nutley, Joyce Hutchins, Vita Mae Collier, Virginia Pearson, June Zylstra, Robert Seilk, Gloria Leaonard, Richard McCulloch, Fusako Uyeda, Barbara Massey, Janice Gorell, Kara Jean Hitchcock, Barbara Walker and Richard Gray.

Members of Honor Society may earn a sophomore and junior pin but the students must maintain their grade average and earn their service and scholarship points over a three year period, to receive the torch pin. Service and scholarship credits are received by assisting teachers, the librarian, or helping in the attendance or main office.

Acknowledgments

The staff of the 1950 Lincolnian wishes to express their sincere thanks to all those that have helped to make this book a reality. Fate seems to have been exceptionally cruel this year, with one difficulty and delay after another being heaped upon the staff, the photographers, the engraver and the printer. But in spite of all the problems that had to be overcome, everyone did a fine job.

Thanks to Rinie Wilhelm for all his patience and work in photographing the seniors. Thanks are also extended to Don Flagg for the photographic work he did. Our sincere appreciation goes to the Liberal Engraving Co. and the Johnson-Cox Co., printers, for the fine job they did.
